Equipped for the Future is a federal initiative to create standards for adult education. We are in the process of evaluating the EFF standards. This summer, we will use the standard “Guide Others” in our class work. We will evaluate it to see if it is appropriate and useful in an ESL class. Some of the EFF skill descriptions for “Guide Others” are:

a. Evaluate the needs of others
b. Evaluate your ability to help
c. Use strategies that take into account the goals, task, context and learning styles of others.
d. Ask for feedback on the usefulness and results of your help.

1. What does Nicanor need? He need speack

2. How can you help? all time speak Englesh

3. What qualities does Nicanor have that will help her or him? Availability
1. What do you need help with?
   I need help in the presentation, listening and speaking, writing all.

2. Did the others in your group help you?
   Yes, of course.

3. What did they do that helped you?

4. Did they do anything that hurt?

5. Are you comfortable in this sort of learning group? Why or why not?
   Yes, I like, because I thing is very good for my learning. I like because I need Learn English.
